QUINTESSA

MEAGHAN QIAN-FU BECKER – GENERAL MANAGER

"Twenty years ago, I never would have imagined that I would end up working and living in Napa Valley. Today, I can't image doing anything else." Meaghan was drawn to wine from a very early age, but took an unconventional path to her current role as General Manager at Quintessa.

Meaghan was born in Nanjing, China and moved to Canada at the age of ten. "Even then, wine was a big part of our family meals and it left an impression." After college, she moved to New York City to pursue a career in Investment Banking at Goldman Sachs. She eventually moved to San Francisco for a Strategy role in Silicon Valley after receiving her MBA at Harvard Business School. It was during this time that she reconnected with her passion for wine. "After spending all my weekends up in wine country, I caught the wine bug. The beauty of Napa Valley preserved through the generations, the sense of community and camaraderie, and a product that brings people together – I was hooked."

Meaghan Becker joined the Quintessa team in 2012 in marketing, and subsequently took over the hospitality and eCommerce businesses, before being promoted to General Manager in 2016. Her role as General Manager of Quintessa enables her to combine her background in strategy with her passion for wine. Today, she works closely with the entire Quintessa team to fulfill the vision of the Huneeus family for this remarkable and distinctive property.
